

Migratory Bird Teacher Workshop

When: October 26th – 28th 2007, arrive evening of the 26th and stay till noon of 28th.

Where: Rockefeller Refuge – Cameron Parish

Why: Louisiana is a major flyway for many migratory birds including waterfowl. Waterfowl management resulting in a healthy waterfowl population is a major goal of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries. Louisiana contains some of the best migratory bird and waterfowl habitat in the nation and Rockefeller Refuge has some of the best examples of coastal habitat in the state. Please join us in learning more about Migratory birds & waterfowl, bird habitat, and the types of research being done to improve their population and habitat. This Workshop offers a certificate containing CLU hours which will be given to all participants at the end of the workshop.

Who: LA. Department of Wildlife & Fisheries sponsors this workshop. Wildlife Educators/Biologist Cheryl Fischer and Theresa Cross are facilitating this workshop. Educators Jonathan LeBlanc and Mitch Samaha will be our master cooks and also help out during the workshop.

How: If you would like to attend, please contact me (Cheryl Fischer – either by e-mail or phone) and you will receive a registration form, fill it out and send a $35 check payable to LDWF to:
